

Elizabeth Shaw
Manager Advisory Services
KPMG

Elizabeth Shaw works as a Manager in KPMG's Advisory practice.

She also holds leadership roles in the not-for-profit sector, currently serving as the President of the Australian National Committee for UN Women and the Deputy Chair of Inclusion WA.

Elizabeth is passionate about increasing gender diversity in leadership. Her work at KPMG has involved:

- Helping establish the Australian 30% Club – an initiative aimed at increasing the number of female directors on ASX-200 boards to 30% by 2018
- Working with the Male Champions of Change to develop a Workplace Response to Domestic and Family Violence, endorsed by Australia's leading companies
- Developing a report on workplace diversity in the West Australian resources sector

She has written on diversity issues for The Australian Financial Review and The West Australian and presented on diversity and inclusion topics around Australia and at the UN Commission on the Status of Women in New York.

Before commencing with KPMG, Elizabeth worked as the Executive Director of the UN Association of Australia in November (2010 – 2014) and a Solicitor at the State Solicitor's Office in Western Australia (2007 – 2010).
