

Nate Wong
Manager, Social Impact
Monitor Deloitte

Nate is a Manager with Deloitte's Social Impact Practice. Nate has 10 years of social sector consulting experience, including work in over 10 countries with marketplace leaders in the public, private, and non-profit sectors, focused on strategy, organization, and operations. Nate specializes in corporate social impact strategy, social finance, and social entrepreneurship. He has numerous publications in sources such as Fortune. More recently, Nate completed research on archetypal business models used by public companies to achieve social impact. Nate has also spoken and conducted research on the "purpose-driven professional" and the connection between social impact and talent development. He has an MBA from the Yale School of Management and a BS in Systems Engineering with High Honors from the University of Virginia.